Lincoln Campus

Welcoming international students
since 1880

In the heart of New Zealand's South Island, near Ōtautahi Christchurch is Lincoln University's Te Waihora campus.

Surrounding this historic yet modern campus are 58 hectares of green and pleasant fields. Around 3000 students from over 65 countries go busily about growing their future.

Great facilities are plentiful with advanced teaching spaces, a comprehensive library, leading-edge research laboratories with 24-hour access, eateries, a printery, world-class cricket facility and a fully equipped fitness centre.

It's the heart of one of the world's highest ranked small universities and New Zealand's best at harnessing the value of the land. And just like our students, Lincoln is changing and growing all the time.

Facilities

Fifty-eight hectares of green and pleasant fields surround our historic yet modern campus which has all the facilities you need to study and conduct research, get fit, meet friends and enjoy your Lincoln experience.

Waimarie

Waimarie is Lincoln University's flagship science facility and is located within a bio-diverse park-like environment. It features climate-controlled learning areas, collaboration spaces for students, and state-of-the-art research laboratories and equipment.

Grounded

Grounded is a bustling and lively student hub, comprising a cafe, mini-theatre, modern comfortable seating areas, workspaces, a garden courtyard and much more.

Whare Hākinakina LU Gym

Whare Hākinakina LU Gym has a purpose-built RPM room with surround sound and cinema-scale visuals, modern changing areas, all-weather multi-code artificial turf, indoor training track, dedicated yoga room, squash courts, multi-purpose training spaces, massage/physiotherapy services, huge weights and fitness machine area, and a climbing wall.

Mrs O's

Mrs O's is the main cafe and restaurant at Lincoln, serving food in the cafe and cafeteria for both students and staff. Ecologically friendly coffee is served along with hot meals, sandwiches and snacks.

Ivey Hall

Ivey Hall was the original teaching, administration and residential building on the Lincoln campus. The foundation date, 1878, can be seen above the main entrance, and the well worn step beneath attests to the hall's constant use over the years since then. It's now the home of Nau mai ki te Whare Pūrākau | Learning, Teaching and Library (LTL), which offers everything you would find in an academic library as well as teaching learning, information and research skills to help you succeed in your studies. It also houses the Careers Centre, to help you plan the next stage of your journey after you graduate.

The Stewart Building

The Stewart building contains two of the largest lecture theatres on campus, with S1 having a capacity for over 300 students.

Great futures grow at Lincoln

Choosing the best university for you is especially important when you are coming all the way from another country to study. With Lincoln, you can tick all the boxes. Take a look below at the 12 most popular reasons international students choose us.

01.

Great futures start here.

We believe the secret to an outstanding future is starting in the right place today. At Lincoln, you'll enjoy the perfect balance of credibility, experience and future-focus in a size that works for you.

Plus many of our programmes include practical work and field trips, for hands-on learning.

02.

Our history, your future.

Lincoln is the Southern Hemisphere's oldest agriculturally-based university. Our story began with farming and as New Zealand and the international economy grew more diverse, we kept pace. Today we are uniquely placed to offer relevant learning, informed by the past, with a vision for the future.

03.

A degree that works.

From Agribusiness to Landscape Architecture, Viticulture and Oenology to Tourism, Lincoln offers a wide range of degrees relevant for today and ready for tomorrow.

Lincoln offers a full range of qualifications including:

- Bachelor's Degrees
- Postgraduate Certificates & Diplomas
- Research & Taught Master's
- PhDs

04.

Good for the planet.

So much of what we do at Lincoln involves land and how we treat the planet. Our world-leading research includes ground breaking innovations in decreasing emissions, alternative fuels and sustainable tourism. And through the Sustainable Action Group for our Environment (SAGE), we also have a group of passionate staff and students that work to make sure our campus is as sustainable as possible.

www.lincoln.ac.nz/sustainability

05.

Being small makes a big difference.

We're New Zealand's smallest university, and that's a huge advantage. You enjoy a more personal learning environment and much more face-to-face contact with lecturers. Plus, Lincoln's village atmosphere provides a real sense of community and more collaboration among students.

06.

The grass is greener.

At Lincoln, we are careful to avoid stretching ourselves across everything. Rather, we put our resources into what we truly excel at. Our history is land-based and that's where our future lies. If yours does too, you're in the right place at Lincoln.

07.

World's 15th best small university.

We keep pace with the very best. Lincoln is recognised around the world as an outstanding small university that delivers quality learning and achieves exceptional results.

6% higher graduate employment rate.

Industry both here and overseas know we produce outstanding graduates. A degree from Lincoln opens more doors and helps you get your career moving faster.

94% course completion.

Lincoln does more to help you succeed. We offer students the skills to achieve their study goals. That's why nearly all of our bachelor-level students successfully complete their courses.

10.

More contact with lecturers.

Our staff pride themselves on always being available to talk to students. Our open-door policy is there to give you support and help you get the most from your studies.

11.

Leaders in research.

Through our own research, as well as our collaborations with world-leading research institutes such as Plant & Food Research and AgResearch, we have more academics producing more world-class research than any other New Zealand university relative to size.

Gender balance.

With a 51:49 percent split between female and male students, Lincoln offers a diverse experience in an inclusive and enriching learning environment beyond just what you learn in your lectures.

Global reach & relevance

Why do students from all over the world flock to study at Lincoln University year after year? It might have something to do with our beautiful campus and stunning New Zealand landscapes. Or all of the friendly, like-minded students and outstanding lecturers. Or perhaps it's our long list of international credentials:

World-class research facilities

By collaborating with the world's best research facilities and universities, it's no wonder Lincoln is renowned for its research.

Yili R&D Centre

Yili, one of Asia's largest dairy companies, established its R&D centre at Lincoln's campus in 2015. We work closely with them in researching all facets of dairy, from production to final consumer products.

Blinc

B.linc Innovation focuses on what's next for Aotearoa New Zealand's agriculture, food and fibre sector.

From farmers and entrepreneurs to scientists and academics it creates connections, encourages collaboration, shares knowledge and experiences to enable innovative solutions for a better world for our future.

Growing solutions

With a focus on the areas of land, food and ecosystems, our researchers are helping solve global challenges for people, planet and prosperity. Find out more at research.lincoln.ac.nz

Great local career prospects

The economic development and employment rate is much higher in Canterbury than other parts of New Zealand, full of potential and promising a bright future.

It pays to specialise

Lincoln focuses on agriculture, food and the whole value chain (including the environment, sustainable development, production, processing, supply chain, marketing, trade, and the end user).

That focus includes land planning and sustainable development – landscape architecture, environmental planning, land and property management, tourism and recreation management.

What does that add up to? Graduates who are true experts in their chosen fields.

Small in numbers, big in performance

In numbers of students, Lincoln is the smallest in New Zealand. But when it comes to student performance, we come out on top.

- Highest ratio of Master's and PhD students in New Zealand: 15%
- Best teacher to student ratio in New Zealand 13.5:1
- New Zealand's most successful research university*

*In research income per full-time academic staff member.

Highly recognised by government and industry

Lincoln University has always had a close relationship with New Zealand industry and national development. And that is especially true today.

Over half of our bachelor degrees have practical work and field trip components featuring lectures and research projects relevant to industry.

Lincoln consistently achieves the highest employment rate of any NZ university.

Lincoln has a 6% higher graduate employment than any other New Zealand university.

Lincoln is recognised by professional bodies in New Zealand and around the world and our graduates are always in demands

Accommodation

Welcome home

There's nothing like coming all the way from your own country and finding a place where you feel just as at home.

That's exactly what you'll find with Lincoln's on-campus accommodation. It's a friendly village-like atmosphere where students thrive and make lifelong friendships.

Our campus is home to around 600 students during the university year and you can choose between catered Halls of Residence, self-catered flats or houses.

Students living on campus say it's a fantastic way to enjoy their time at Lincoln. You'll make lots of friends; there's always something fun going on and you're just a short walk away from lectures, gym, shops, cafés and bars.

If living off-campus regular bus services to and from central Christchurch make it easy to get to your classes. Lincoln Village, Riccarton and Rolleston (suburbs in Christchurch) are popular options for student flats because of their convenience and exciting student community.

Houses

We have a limited number of campus houses, ranging from two–four bedrooms. They are ideal for students with families, and are in high demand. Please talk directly to the Accommodation Office to be considered for this option.

Renting

If you're ready to step out on your own, you're in a great part of the world to do it. There are lots of excellent homes available for rent in Lincoln, and around Christchurch city.

Homestays

If you're an international student or you just prefer a family living environment, a homestay could be perfect for you. We can help you find just the right place where you'll live a real Kiwi life with a real Kiwi family.

Student support

Leaving your home country to attend university overseas is a huge step. And it's easy to feel a bit confused or lost when you get there. At Lincoln, we understand what you're going through, so we have lots of special support for international students on campus. And our friendly staff are here to help you feel settled and at ease.

International Office

The International Office promotes and markets Lincoln University to prospective international students and works with its global network of education agents to provide high quality customer service. They also support students with programme and course advice and help students through the University's applications and enrolment processes. The team is proud to deliver essential pastoral care to international students during their time of study at Lincoln University.

International Student Advisors

The friendly and helpful team who can help you with any issue or concern, whether it's personal, social or cultural. If it's a legal, financial or academic issue, we can point you in the right direction.

Student Administration

Our team is ready to assist you with your study applications, enrolments, medical insurance, graduation, practical work and exam queries.

LUSA

The Lincoln University Students' Association (LUSA) provides representation and support for students. They also organise events and coordinate clubs and sports groups to keep you busy and having fun throughout the year.

Student Health and Support

We know sometimes things can seem daunting, or life can present an obstacle or two. And we really want you to know that we care and you don't have to deal with things alone. So we offer a full range of health and support services available on campus to make sure your time at Lincoln is a happy one.

Chaplaincy

Many international students come from a faith background, such as Christian, Muslim, Hindu, Buddhist and many more. We are here for all of you, as well as those without a faith or religious background. The Lincoln Chaplaincy team offer pastoral and spiritual support anytime you need it.

Learning, Teaching and Library (LTL)

The Learning, Teaching and Library team can help you to get the best out of your studies with learning support and access to an extensive collection of online and print resources.

They also provide a quiet place for you to study, either individually or as part of a group in a designated study space.

The team can equip you with a range of study techniques, including helping you to strengthen your writing, find resources, manage your research, enhance your learning and develop your career.

Additionally, they can assist with referencing and data.

You can find the Learning, Teaching and Library team on the ground floor of the iconic Ivey Hall building at the heart of campus.

Careers and Employment Advice

Sometimes choosing the right career path is easy. But if it's not, our experienced advisors and extensive resource information can help you make an informed decision. Lincoln students and graduates can access Lincoln Careerhub, a site that provides information about the graduate job market, internships, graduate programmes, scholarships, immediate vacancies and employer events. Plus we also host a range of recruitment events throughout the year featuring employers on campus for drop-ins, information sessions and networking.

NauMai NZ

NauMai NZ is for international students studying or about to study in New Zealand. It's an opportunity to get useful information to help you experience our land, lifestyle and culture, and navigate daily life along the way!

Key information

Lincoln has a full network of support for international students to make your transition to New Zealand a truly life changing experience. We also use a number of other agencies for advice – see below.

Code of Practice

Lincoln University has agreed to observe and be bound by the Education (Pastoral Care of Tertiary and International Learners) Code of Practice 2021. Copies of the code are available from the NZQA website: nzqa.govt.nz

Immigration and your student visa

Full details of immigration requirements, advice on rights to employment in New Zealand while studying and reporting requirements are available from Immigration New Zealand and can be viewed on their website: immigration.govt.nz

Eligibility for health services

Most international students are not entitled to publicly funded health services while in New Zealand. If you receive medical treatment during your visit, you may be liable for the full costs of that treatment. Full details on entitlements to publicly funded health services are available through the Ministry of Health and can be viewed on their website: moh.govt.nz

Accident insurance

The Accident Compensation Corporation provides accident insurance for all New Zealand citizens, residents and temporary visitors, but you may still be liable for all other medical and related costs. Further information can be viewed on the ACC website: acc.co.nz

Medical and travel insurance

International students (including group students) must have appropriate and current medical and travel insurance while in New Zealand.

All New Zealand universities, including Lincoln University, endorse the insurance plan known as Studentsafe University. You can read more about the policy, premiums and contact details for claims: lincoln.ac.nz/insurance. The Studentsafe University policy can be purchased from Lincoln University when you complete your enrolment.

Lincoln’s global network

Once you successfully complete your studies at Lincoln University, you become what is known as an alumnus (male), alumna (female) or alumni (plural) of the university, meaning a former student.

You’ll be part of a global community of alumni, able to connect with each other and friends of Lincoln University.

All students who complete a course of study are automatically members of the Lincoln University Alumni Association and membership is free.

Christian Garcia Cedeno Diploma in University Studies

Christian Garcia might be studying remotely at home in Mexico, but he has his future sights firmly set on a career in New Zealand.

Studying towards a Bachelor of Science with a Major in Biology as well as Conservation and Ecology, he would “love to be able to work in New Zealand after finishing my degree either studying the fauna or working in a lab focusing on biochemistry and/or genetics.”

He started his study at Lincoln through the Certificate in University Studies (CUS) online, excelled and then moved quickly onto the Diploma of University Studies (DUS). Christian said learning online was a challenging “but very fun and rewarding experience”.

“The course was very well organised, the tutors were remarkably thorough and they had an excellent disposition towards answering any inquiries.

He chose Lincoln University mainly because it was recommended to him “as one of the best universities for studying conservation and ecology” and because of its focus on field and laboratory research.

“Another thing that caught my eye was that I was told it has one of the highest employment rates after graduation, as well as plentiful opportunities to start engaging in summertime jobs related to my field.”

Study abroad & exchange

Study Abroad

Lincoln University offers a Study Abroad programme where you can attend Lincoln University for a semester or year and transfer the credits back to your degree at home. Studying overseas is a uniquely rewarding experience. You will develop a new perspective on life, grow your knowledge of your chosen subject and have the chance to explore a different part of the world.

Semester & academic year

How a semester works for a typical student

The University year is split into two semesters, with a two-week break in the middle. At the end of each semester there's a one-week study break, followed by two weeks for exams. Each semester looks like this.

One academic calendar year

As a full time student you will normally study four courses a semester. Each course is usually equal to 15 credits, and you need a total of 360 credits for a three-year degree. Postgraduate students will normally study three courses equal to 20 credits each.

Outline of a three-year degree

Courses are at different levels. Students start with courses at 100 level. These are sometimes referred to as “first year courses” but can be taken in other years. They generally prepare you for studying courses at the 200 and 300 levels, which are taken in your second and third years.

*Summer school is available for some courses from November.
Visit www.lincoln.ac.nz/Study/ways-to-study/Summer-School/ for more.

Workload

Students are required to spend between four to five hours per week on each course (including classes, labs and tutorials), a total of 16-20 hours per week. Students should also spend four to five hours per week on self-study. Therefore, at least 40 hours of studying is required per week.

One credit = 10 hours.

The Bachelor of Agricultural Science, Landscape Architecture, Land and Property Management, and Environment Policy and Planning degrees include 480 credits. The rest of Lincoln University's Bachelor degrees are made up of 360 credits.

Lincoln grading system

Lincoln grading system
A+	90-100	B+	75-79	C+	60-64
A	85-89	B	70-74	C	55-59
A-	80-84	B-	65-69	C-	50-54
				D	40-49 (Fail)
				E	0-39 (Fail)

Online learning

Lincoln University offers online study options.

Our online options are designed to be fully internet-based. You can study in your own time, at home or in a location of your choosing, either full-time or part-time.

You'll still enjoy the Lincoln experience through our connected support services as we help you to explore and cultivate your potential.

Undergraduate pathways

Lincoln University provides accelerated and flexible pathway programmes to an undergraduate degree:

- Diploma in University Studies 2
- Diploma in University Studies 3
- Certificate in University Studies

Lincoln University accelerated degree pathway example

CUS	DUS3	DUS2	Bachelor Year 2	Bachelor Year 3
-----	------	------	-----------------	-----------------

Features

- The Diploma of University Studies (DUS) is made up of two or three semesters. There are three intakes per year – February, July, November.
- The Diploma of University Studies 2 (DUS2) takes two semesters. DUS2 is the only direct pathway into level 100 papers by a New Zealand university, and approved by New Zealand's national academic body.
- DUS and regular bachelor students will study the same course at level 100.
- The Diploma of University Studies 3 (DUS3) takes three semesters. The level 100 paper taken in semester one can be cross credited into semester two.
- Students with all A grades in Certificate in University Studies (CUS) are able to move directly into DUS2, saving one semester.
- There is a 90% pass rate for DUS2 and DUS3.
- If a student does not pass an individual 100 level course, it may still be possible to move onto the second year of degree study.
- Compulsory free tutorials take place after class.
- The Certificate in University Studies can be completed fully online. Courses in the Diploma of University Studies programme can also be completed remotely. Please contact us for more details.

Yukiko Kako (Japan)

Yukiko Kako, From Nagoya in Japan, has made full use of Lincoln's extensive array of English language and academic skills programmes to ensure she was ready to meet her study goals.

She is now in the third year of a Bachelor of Agribusiness and Food Marketing degree after having had "almost no English skill when I decided to study abroad."

She said having different options to start academic study "gave me hope that I could imagine myself doing the main degree in the future".

"I studied English for Academic Purposes (EAP) for five months before starting the Certificate in University Studies (CUS).

"The things that I studied in EAP are useful for the degree and I actually still follow the rules and structure.

She did the Certificate to continue to build her skills, especially around English, before going on to the Diploma in University Studies (DUS), which allowed her to start her degree in a supported study programme.

"As I went through all the courses, I made friendships that hopefully will last for the rest of my life."

English language school

Intake dates
2024: 8 Jan, 5 Feb, 11 Mar, 15 Apr, 20 May, 1 Jul, 29 Jul, 2 Sept, 7 Oct, 11 Nov

If your English needs to improve before you begin your studies, we offer a special school that will help you reach the level you need to be:

English for Academic Purpose (EAP)

- The University's own English school has small class sizes
- Your pathway into any of Lincoln's programmes
- You are tested every four weeks, and if you pass, you can begin your programmes
- The most flexible EAP course of any NZ university.

Depending on your English level, you can study for 12 weeks, 16 weeks, 20 weeks, or 24 weeks (a four-week module). If you meet the required level before your enrolled period finishes, your remaining tuition fee can be transferred to the other programmes.

Students must have at least IELTS 4.0 to be eligible.

Our EAP course gives you the language and skills necessary for university study at undergraduate or postgraduate level. You can choose components to prepare for academic study, including:

- Reading academic books and journals
- Writing formal reports and research essays
- Studying academic vocabulary
- Using library resources
- Presenting academic seminars and talks, and taking notes.

Graduate Certificate in Academic English (GCAE)

GCAE is the only New Zealand university English language programme at postgraduate level approved by the Committee on University Academic Programmes (CUAP) and is also the New Zealand Qualifications Authority (NZQA) Level 7. The objective is to provide an alternative to IELTS. More importantly, GCAE prepares you well for future postgraduate level study.

You don't need to take IELTS again after completing GCAE to continue postgraduate level programmes at Lincoln. It includes the Bachelor of Landscape Architecture (Graduate Entry); Graduate Diploma/Certificate; Postgraduate Diploma/Certificate; Masters Degree (research/taught); and PhD.

This certificate meets the English Language requirement of IELTS 6.5 of other New Zealand Universities.

Length: 16 weeks

Content
Module 1: Weeks 1-12	ACEN301 (3 modules, total 12 weeks); Assessment after each module; Student may reach the requirement after two modules, and can proceed to ACEN303 in advance.
Module 4: Weeks 13-16	ACEN303 (one module, total four weeks) Includes literature review and research study skills

If you reach the required level within 12 weeks, then the remaining tuition fee can be transferred to your specified academic programme. If you reach the postgraduate required level, you can study the four-week ACEN303 course to prepare for further studies.

Entry requirements

1. Bachelor Degree
2. IELTS 6.0 (no individual band is below 5.5)
3. If the student hasn't reached IELTS 6.0, they can study EAP and reach IELTS 6.0 before moving into GCAE.

Small class sizes

Academic English classes at Lincoln usually have about 12 students. Small class sizes mean you have the opportunity to speak with others and ask questions. It also means our teachers have the opportunity to dedicate more time to helping you.

Full-time study

At Lincoln you will have 20 hours per week in class. In addition, you will be required to complete homework and reports. All of this is to help prepare you for your future studies. You will learn how to read, write and communicate in an academic context.

English further study awards

Any student who successfully completes a minimum of 12 weeks of EAP will receive a fees rebate award when you enrol in your next academic programme.

Daryl Streat – Head of Programme for English Language

As the Head of Programme for English Language programmes at Lincoln, Daryl and his team prepare you for your studies and help you meet our English Language requirements. Their job is to help you settle into a new academic culture and build awareness of Lincoln's academic English expectations.

Born in New Zealand and raised in Saudi Arabia, Austria, Holland and Taiwan, Daryl is an active member in the community and is the current President of the National Association of English Language Teachers (TESOLANZ).

If you are interested please contact Daryl via his email: daryl.streat@lincoln.ac.nz

Gemma Austria (Philippines)

Master of Professional Accounting (CPA)

Gemma Austria had a job offer the same day she received the results for her final paper.

She passed her Master of Professional Accounting (CPA) degree in November to graduate this year, and took the external auditor job.

Three months later she was promoted to senior auditor.

From the Philippines, she chose the programme at Lincoln as it was "relevant to my undergraduate degree of Bachelor of Science in Accountancy, and work experience as an auditor and accountant."

Gemma enjoyed the online aspect of the programme.

"It worked best for me because as a full-time student while working part-time, it gave me flexibility and saved money and time to travel from Hornby to Lincoln."

The skills she learned at Lincoln are crucial in her new role.

"The up-to-date concepts in accounting, auditing, tax, financial risk management (derivatives) helped me in my audit risk assessment, analysis, and decision-making."

She even found the job through the CPA network from a friend and said she has easily adjusted to work in New Zealand.

"New Zealand is peaceful, with much freedom, a sense of equality and privacy, and has beautiful nature."

Assessments

Each week there are tasks for each class to help you learn and improve your skills. These include assignments, forums, and quizzes. Three assessments contribute to your final grade:

- A reading test
- Writing tests (one essay, one data description)
- A research report (focused on in Research Skills classes).

Your live online classes will include reviewing preview materials, clarifying and explaining class content and completing activities to ensure you understand the subject material.

There are 37.5 learning hours per week, made-up of 15 live classes which are 50 minutes long. Writing, reading, and research classes have preview tasks and homework, use online language learning tools, and have quizzes and forums. You will also work on your research report.

Chiyu (Finn) He (China)

Master of Applied Computing

PC Application Developer and Lincoln University Master of Applied Computing graduate, Chiyu He or Finn, from China, has found the ability to learn new skills he acquired from his time at Lincoln invaluable in the world of IT.

He also credits the three-month English for Academic Purposes (EAP) course he did at Lincoln before his main course as making him well-prepared for study.

He chose to travel from Sichuan, China to study at Lincoln University as there were some courses, such as in GIS and Neural Networks, which he saw as being able to give him an advantage in his future IT career.

What's more, he said, the practical project which is part of the Master of Applied Computing programme "gave me a lot of experience, that can help me find a suitable job more efficiently".

He started his role as a student intern, then received a formal job offer after he graduated.

He recommends others follow his path to Lincoln.

Faculty

Agribusiness & Commerce

Lincoln University is proud to be at the forefront of sustainable business, through the teaching and research of our Faculty of Agribusiness and Commerce.

The Faculty of Agribusiness and Commerce emphasises knowledge creation in order to develop outstanding graduates who can apply what they have learnt to increase productivity, commercialisation and sustainability in their workplace environment.

The faculty is divided into four departments:

- Agribusiness and Markets
- Financial and Business Systems
- Global Value Chains and Trade
- Land Management and Systems

The faculty's postgraduate programme provides a wide range of courses each semester, emphasising both research and practice. It has an active research programme and the proven ability to work closely with industry, government, professional bodies, and end users. The Lincoln University Centre for International Development is the research centre that is associated with this faculty (find out more on page 28).

Agribusiness & Commerce working together

Lincoln's Faculty of Agribusiness & Commerce aspires to be Australasia's premier educator in these fields and we place ourselves at the heart of the value chains that underpin New Zealand's economy.

Lincoln connects people and businesses with studies that cover economic, social and biophysical elements. Our global outlook and reach are core themes.

The strong domestic industry relationships through research, job placement and interaction with students continue to flourish. We collaborate with the likes of Fonterra, the NZX, AgResearch and DairyNZ to name just a few.

Internationally, we have a presence everywhere from the Yunnan Agriculture University in China to the Australian horticulture industry.

John Camelo (Colombia)

Master of Business (Finance)

Certified public accountant John Camelo, from Bogota, Colombia, considers Lincoln University's Master of Business (Finance) degree an excellent choice for advancing a career in the finance sector.

"Lincoln provided me with a well-rounded education, an extensive skill set, and a heightened sense of professionalism that are highly valued by employers when it comes time to find a job."

He added that Lincoln University's English for Academic Purposes (EAP) programme propelled him towards greater linguistic fluency and opened the door to his degree.

Studying in New Zealand can be a transformative experience that broadens your horizons and equips you for a globalized world.

John Camelo (Bogota, Colombia)

Faculty

Agriculture & Life Sciences

Lincoln is focused on improving productivity in the agricultural sector, while ensuring the environment is protected. We also focus strongly on protecting New Zealand’s unique flora and fauna.

The Faculty of Agriculture and Life Sciences is made up of four departments:

- Agricultural Sciences
- Pest-Management and Conservation
- Soil and Physical Sciences
- Wine, Food and Molecular Biosciences

We operate two dairy farms, a small high country run, irrigated and dryland pastures, a vineyard, hops garden, horticultural research area and plant nursery.

And are supported by five research centres embedded in the faculty:

- The Centre for Advanced Computational Solutions
- The Centre for Food Research and Innovation
- The Centre for Soil and Environmental Research
- The Centre for Viticulture and Oenology
- The Centre for Wildlife Management and Conservation

Lincoln’s Faculty of Agriculture and Life Sciences directs research and education toward improved productivity for the agricultural sector that also protects the environment.

We have strong relationships with many external stakeholders, including some of New Zealand’s biggest companies.

As a result, we are constantly up-to-speed with industry trends. This means they can develop and tweak the curriculum to ensure our graduates are receiving leading edge, research-led teaching.

Examples of this are programmes such as the Master of Pest Management and Master of Wine and Viticulture.

The faculty makes strong contributions to MBIE programmes, for example: Advanced Computed Tomography scanning technology has been established, facilitating research into neurological diseases of humans and animals including Batten disease, in collaboration with the University of Otago.

Faculty

Environment, Society & Design

The Faculty of Environment, Society and Design is focused on how humanity takes care of the land, water and people, as encapsulated by the Māori value of Kaitiakitaka.

This is achieved through designing, planning and managing, through consideration of activities that produce wellbeing, and above all, ensuring thinking critically about the impact of everything that society does.

They have strong connections with a range of external stakeholders, in particular the New Zealand Planning Institute (NZPI) and New Zealand Institute of Landscape Architects (NZILA) who accredit several of the faculty degrees in planning and landscape architecture. Additionally, all of the faculty’s programmes draw on trained professionals for industry expertise from organisations such as the Department of Conservation, Tourism Industry Aotearoa, Recreation Aotearoa and the New Zealand Parks Agencies Managers’ Group (NZPAMG). They also consult regularly with professionals through advisory boards working in natural disaster management, water management and computer science.

The faculty has pioneered and maintained collaborative innovative degrees through teaching partnerships that draw on the expertise of Lincoln University and partner universities (the University of Canterbury and the University of Natural Resources and Life Sciences, Vienna (BOKU)).

All of the faculty’s teaching programmes draw on ground-breaking and influential research which spans diverse disciplines including geography, sociology, psychology, exercise science, computer science, Māori studies and engineering and have achieved international rankings in leisure and hospitality and sport science.

Dou Guo (Izzie)
China

Master of Tourism Management

As Digital Marketing Manager for New Zealand Story, Izzie "gets to highlight the culture, innovation and amazing people of New Zealand to the rest of the world".

She said the Master of Tourism Management gave her a solid understanding of the requirements of the sector.

"The professors were extremely supportive of our individual research interests. Being able to present my research findings during job interviews gave me a unique edge, and I believe it played a critical role in securing my first professional job."

As an international student, I felt Lincoln would provide the supportive environment I needed, and it turned out to be the perfect choice for me."
